ORDERS

Art. 1 – Purpose

A procedure of comparative evaluation by qualifications and public discussion is called for the recruitment of two positions for Tenured Assistant Professor with a fixed-term full-time employment contract, pursuant to art. 24, paragraph 3, of Law no. 240/2010, Academic Recruitment Field reference 10/LICO-01 and the Disciplinary Scientific Sector LICO-01/A - Contemporary Italian Literature.

The job is activated for the needs of research and study of the Department of Classical Philology and Italian Studies - FICLIT of the Alma Mater Studiorum - University of Bologna. Serving primarily at the Department of Classical Philology and Italian Studies - FICLIT, in Bologna.

The contract shall last six years. A gross annual salary of € 38.986,00 will be granted to the Assistant Professor. The annual increase in this amount will be calculated according to the existing procedure for non-contracted personnel.

Art. 2 – Activities to be performed

The contract includes 350 hours of supplementary teaching and assistance to students, for each academic year covered by the contract. The contract shall schedule 60 hours of frontal teaching on annual basis.

With reference to what is provided in Article 11 (Object of the contract) of the Regulation for the discipline of fixed-term researchers in Tenure Track (RTT), issued with D.R. no. 151 of 03/02/2023, the activities that the researchers will have to carry out are related to the development of one of the projects described below. The selection of the projects will take place according to the methods provided in the following Article 8.

Project 1, tutor Prof. Giuliana Benvenuti: "Literature, intermediality and publishing cases in the second half of the Twentieth Century".

The researcher aims to analyse Italian literature from the second half of The Twentieth Century through a intermedial perspective, by investigating hybridisation, adaptation and contamination processes between different languages (from fiction to cinema, from theater to television and the first audiovisual and multi-medial experimentations). The project aims to explore how literary texts relate to other media, how they changed and transformed through rewritings that contributed in redefining the narrative patterns of contemporary Italy. By applying literary theory together with anthropology and cultural history, the project will investigate works and authors that utilised different languages, enlightening transcoding strategies, format or genre modifications and reception dynamics while paying particular attention to the evolution of historical novel, epic and myth.

Project 2, tutor Prof. Antonio Bazzocchi: "Beyond the canon: Marginal Writings in Twentieth Century Italian Literature".

Disregarding the established literary canon, the marginal writings of the late 20th century are examined in order to identify configurations of non-conforming representations of subjectivity. Through methodological application of gender studies, literary criticism and cultural history, the project will focus on the analysis of those fictions, poems and essays which in different ways impacted on the profound changes that occurred in Italy after World War II. Particular attention will be paid to the narrative, stylistic and linguistic strategies that Italian female writers used to establish alternate identity models against prevailing conventions. The aim is to restore visibility to many authors that are still outside the literary canon, leading to a more inclusive and complex interpretation of contemporary Italian literature's history."

During the contract period, The researcher must participate in at least three international conferences, publish three essays on journals or books and a monography related to the research project.
