DUAL DEGREE WITH UNIVERSITY OF MIAMI – APPLICATION PROCEDURE

A.Y. 2022/2023

Civil Engineering Master Degree Programme Environmental Engineering Master Degree Programme - curriculum Earth Resources Engineering

ART. 1 – Object and scope.

In the framework of the Double Degree Agreement between the University of Bologna and the University of Miami (USA), 1 scholarship is available to students enrolled in the first year of the master's degree in Civil Engineering or in the first year of the master's degree in Environmental Engineering - curriculum Earth Resources Engineering in the academic year 2021/2022. The abovementioned scholarship is aimed at obtaining the Laurea Magistrale in Civil Engineering or the Laurea Magistrale in Environmental Engineering at UNIBO and the “Master of Science in Civil Engineering” at the University of Miami.

The selected students will spend 2 semesters at the University of Miami, so as to attend classes, take exams and prepare the final project. Students must refer to the Dual Degree Agreement with the University of Miami and the related correspondence tables for details about the mobility scheme and the organization of the learning activities. These documents are available in the degree programme websites for the whole duration of the call: <https://corsi.unibo.it/2cycle/CivilEngineering/opportunities-international-degree-programme>; <https://corsi.unibo.it/2cycle/EnvironmentalEngineering-ERE/multiple-degree-programmes>.

Each student may participate in as many “Call for applications” as they wish to, by going through the online procedure set forth in the article 5. Nevertheless, should a candidate be declared winner of more of them, they will be required to pick one when accepting the scholarship (see article 8). In the latter case, the following eligible applicant in the ranking shall be declared winner and will take over the position.

It is worth pointing out that the COVID-19 pandemic still affects international mobility: in 2021 several universities blocked incoming mobility, whereas many countries closed off their borders or put in place travel restrictions. Thus, winners will be able to leave as long as similar measures are not implemented over the next few months: should anything come up, it might be arranged to participate in the double degree in e-learning. Students will be promptly updated and informed accordingly.

ART. 2 – Scholarships’ amount

Each scholarship, seen as a mean to financially support students abroad, amounts to 6,000 euros (gross), to which University tax obligations as well as student tax obligations are to be deducted. Such amount will be transferred in three installments by the Department of Civil, Chemical, Environmentl and Materials Engineering (DICAM):

- The first installment (4,000 euros) after having formally accepted the scholarship and set off to the partner university;
- The last one (2,000 euros) at the end of the double degree on condition the student presents a certificate from the partner University stating their class’ attendance

Moreover, requirements set forth in article 10 must be met.

The scholarship will not be granted or it will be reduced should the stay be canceled or delayed because of the COVID-19 pandemic situation.

ART. 3 – Participation requirements

Students enrolled in the Academic Year 2021/2022 at the first year of the Master’s degree in 8895-Civil Engineering or at the first year of the Master’s Degree in 8894-Environmental Engineering (curriculum Earth Resources Engineering) may send off their application. Moreover, they must have at least 15 credits registered in their career and a CGPA no lower than 25/30.

ART. 4 - Incompatibility circumstances

Under no circumstances scholarship’s grantees may benefit from another international mobility grant issued by the Alma Mater Studiorum – University of Bologna for the same period and the same destination.
