Course catalogue

The course catalogue is not available at the moment. To draw up the study project, please refer to the course list of the AY 2020/2021:

School of International Studies: Chinese Security Law (2 local credits), American Contract Law (2 local credits), International Regulation of Cyberspace (2 local credits), Chinese Civil Law (2 local credits), Chinese Culture and Law (2 local credits), Private International Law (2 local credits), Introduction to Chinese Legal system (2 local credits), Intellectual Property Law (2 local credits), Judicial System in China (2 local credits), Contemporary Chinese Political Science and Society (2 local credits), Chinese Contemporary Law (2 local credits), International Human Rights Law (2 local credits) (Spring semester).

Credit units at CUPL reflect the number of lecture hours per week. Each semester comprises 18 weeks. Example: a course of 2 credit units is a course with 2 x 18 = 36 lecture hours. When converting this system to our system with ECTS credit units, one needs to take into account that the 25 study hours for 1 ECTS credit unit comprise both lectures and study hours.

Exchange students are allowed to attend undergraduate courses (modules) held at the following Schools: Faculty of Arts & Social Sciences (FASS), Faculty of Engineering (FoE), Faculty of Science (FoS), School of Computing (SoC), and School of Design & Environment (SDE), with several exceptions (see the “Limitations” paragraph). Each module is matched with a code, composed of either two or three letters followed by four numbers, the first one indicating the course year. Exchange students are allowed to take courses whose code ranges from 1000 to 3000.

Limitations

Exchange students cannot attend courses offered by the Faculty of Dentistry, Yong Loo Lin School of Medicine (only for modules not beginning with the LSM prefix), Saw Swee Hock School of Public Health (graduate modules), Alice Lee Centre for Nursing Studies, and Institute of Systems Science. All graduate courses at NUS are not available to exchange students. Access to courses offered by the Department of Pharmacy of the Faculty of Science, to undergraduate modules offered by the Saw Swee Hock School of Public Health, and the University Scholars Programme is extremely limited too. The faculties of Law and Business are not available for exchange students, since these two Departments only accept students on the basis of specific agreements that do not include the University of Bologna.

For the Faculty of Architecture and Computer Science, courses are open only to students who are already enrolled in a degree programme belonging to these two disciplines, although with a limited access to courses that will need to be verified upon request. Please note that undergraduate level courses of Economics offered by the Faculty of Arts and Social Sciences are only open to undergraduate level students (only modules from 1000 to 3000 with the EC prefix). Modules with GEK, GEM and SSA are not available for exchange students. Due to the high number of restrictions, it is necessary to submit a rather flexible study plan, indicating alternative courses as well. All the restrictions for each Faculty/School/Programme, are listed at the following webpage:

<http://www.nus.edu.sg/registrar/docs/info/prospective-students---non-graduating/non-graduating-module-restrictions.pdf> (please copy and paste the link in your browser)

Students are suggested to carefully check this page, to make sure that the modules they are interested in are available for exchange students and are not accessible under restrictions.

Language requirements

Exchange students are requested to provide a TOEFL iBT with a minimum overall score of 79. Alternatively, Exchange students may provide an IELTS (Academic) certificate with a minimum overall score of 6.5.
